Remarks	1. A seventy percent is regarded as passing, with a full score being one hundred percent. The grade shall be assigned only once and is an average of the grades assigned by each committee member. The student shall not pass the master's examination if more than one half of the examiners assign a failing grade. The student shall not pass the doctoral examination if over one third of the examiners assign a failing grade. 2. After the degree examination has been conducted, each department must confirm that students' academic records from previous years (excluding current semester courses) have been assessed and meet the graduation requirements of the department. Additionally, the Degree Examination Result Report for Master's and Doctoral Degree Candidates must be graded and signed by the degree examination committee members before submitting the results to the Office of Academic Affairs by the end of the semester in which the degree examination took place. The Office of Academic Affairs will register the degree examination results on the transcript only after receiving the Graduate Students' Electronic Thesis Academic Quality Consent Form signed by the advisor and verifying that the student meets the graduation requirements. Graduate students who fail to submit the required electronic thesis within one month after the end of the semester in which the degree examination was conducted, but still have remaining study period, must register for the following semester. Those whose study period has ended but have special circumstances may apply for a one-time extension to submit their thesis. However, if the thesis is not submitted within the extended period, the student will be withdrawn from the University. Students who have passed the degree examination may apply for a certificate of qualification for the degree examination before graduation. Those who have fulfilled the requirements stated in the first clause may apply for a degree certificate. The Office of Academic Affairs will issue the Diploma only after the student has completed the graduation clearance process. All thesis submissions must comply with the university library's procedures. 3. Upon receiving the degree examination report of a student who has not applied for Deferred Graduation, or upon confirmation that a student who previously applied for Deferred Graduation has completed registration and submitted the Graduation and Clearance Intention Adjustment Application during the intended graduation semester, the Office of Academic Affairs will proceed to issue the diploma in accordance with Article 4 of the Guidelines on the Format and Issuance of Diploma. The processing time for diploma issuance is three working days.
